

Hi, and welcome to the Edna ISD Website! We are proud of our schools, our teachers, our students and our website. Please browse!

Our mission is to ensure a quality education for all, and we take that very literally. We have a host of dedicated employees implementing a plethora of instructional programs that target each individual learner's needs. We will not rest until every student is successful.

We are proud of our outcomes, and our historical snapshot shows a school district with continuous improvement. We are equally proud that in addition to great success in the academic area, we offer an array of comprehensive programs to enrich the educational experience of our students: gifted, art, band, choir, athletics, dance team, career and technology, Science Olympiad, dyslexia, English as a second language, college credit courses and AP, computer and technology, health education, character education, and a courageous sex education program entitled "Worth the Wait." And, we organize and provide through partnerships with the City of Edna and LNRA an extensive summer youth program providing our kids with positive, structured learning and recreational activities during the summer.

We are engaged in an extensive building program with a new elementary opened for school year 08-09, a new junior high gym, a new high school weight room and a new junior high school scheduled to open in school year 2010-2011 funded without an increase in tax rates!

We have a wonderful Board of Trustees, supportive community and involved parents. We practice real collaborative decision making via our District Improvement Team, Campus Improvement Teams, and School Health Advisory Council. You will find our community and our employees open to your ideas, suggestions and questions. We are here to serve our students to the best of our ability.

Again, thanks for visiting our website. Enjoy!
